

he set. MERLIN
'ance.)

When your ness in -

for the

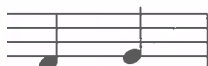

a-glow from

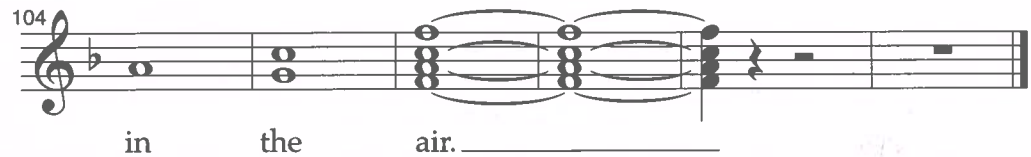

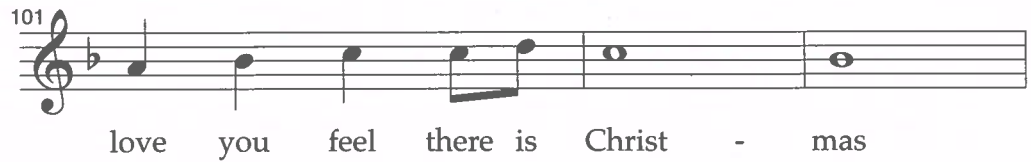

When you

-mas in the ceal the

(MERLIN and MORGAN applaud the CAROLERS.)

MERLIN

Ah, wonderful, wonderful! I'm as light as a feather, as happy as an angel!

MORGAN

You know those are Mister Dickens' lines, don't you?

MERLIN

(to MORGAN)

Oh, quite right.

(to audience)

Sincerest apologies. I do get ahead of myself.

(#2 – MERLIN AND MORGAN begins.)

This is Morgan Le Fay, Magical Librarian of Camelot.

MORGAN

And this is my dear friend, Merlin The Magician. Perhaps the wand gave him away? Quite a powerful tool. But I believe there is no magic as powerful as a good story.

MERLIN

I agree! And while I always enjoy a good story with sorcerers and knights and castles, my favorite story is a ghost tale.

(#3 – A GHOST TALE begins.)

CAROLER #1

It's a story that lives in the heart of a man named Charles Dickens.

CAROLER #2

A story so important that for hundreds of years to come—